[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Justice Mills handed down a decision this morning declaring Harry K. Thaw is insane.
He dismissed the writ of habeas corpus under which Thaw endeavored to secure his release from Matteawan during the first three months of his stay there.
"That his mother be allowed all possible privileges, and be treated with every consideration when she calls to see him,"
The prisoner took the decision coolly. The only statement was a denial of the assertion that in the court's opinion that he still cherished

Not one of the many contentions made by Thaw during his recent hearing was sustained. He is, however, somewhat better off than before he brought the present suit because the justice in his decision suggests:

SEVEN DAY'S WAR BEGINS FRIDAY

ARMY MANEUVERS BEGIN AT MIDNIGHT TOMORROW.

BOSTON TO BE ATTACKED

And Defended by Militiamen—Conditions of Contest Will Be Same as in Real War.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Mass., Aug. 12.—War is to be declared against the United States by a foreign power tomorrow night and promptly at midnight the hostile invaders will cut off all telegraph and telephone connections in the attacked territory, somewhere between Boston and the southern state line. In the extremely the federal government will call upon the commonwealth of Massachusetts to defend its free soil against the invading enemy. These formalities will mark the beginning of the greatest war game which this country has ever seen. The military invasion and defense, which both will be made as realistic as possible under existing conditions, will last a full week and will serve several purposes. The pretended war will involve more than 10,000 men, mostly members of the state militia of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts, with a few men from Washington, D. C., and a small force of regular cavalry, to increase the available cavalry force required in the maneuvers. The operations will be conducted under conditions as nearly as possible corresponding to the conditions of actual warfare and the troops and war material under conditions which would prevail in case of actual war.
In answer to the call of the federal government the state of Massachusetts will mobilize a force of about seven thousand state troops on short notice and rush them, fully equipped and armed, and provided with U. S. rations to the front, that is, the point or points where the invading force of nine thousand men has effected a landing. The invading force will consist of infantry, cavalry and artillery, supplied by the states of New York and Connecticut and the District of Columbia. The attack will be directed by Major-General Leonard Wood, while the defense will be in the hands of Major-General William A. Pow, commander of the Massachusetts militia.
In accordance with the plans arranged, immediately after the war has been declared, the troops from Washington, those of New York and those of Connecticut, completely equipped and armed for active field duty, will proceed with the greatest rapidity to a certain rendezvous, the location of which is kept secret, and there embark in several transports. The transports will proceed to some point on the Massachusetts coast, also kept a profound secret. There a landing will be effected and the military force formed into a line of attack with a view of surprising the defenses of Boston and taking them. Aside from the transport the naval force of the United States will take part in the mimic war. Attack and defense will be on land and the fighting line may extend over a distance of more than thirty miles.
The war operations are to cover seven days and will include night marches, sorties from the forts guarding Boston harbor and various other field maneuvers. It will be rough campaigning in a hostile country in every sense. The invading force will, of course only theoretically, destroy telegraph and telephone lines and will have to fight its way from the landing place inch by inch to the defenses of Boston. Unpleasant will decide the result of the various maneuvers and while combats. There will be all kinds of military work to do for the combating forces, scouting, skirmishing, flanking and marching, digging of trenches, crossing of streams with full equipment and quick marches over rough country. Both forces will be accompanied by their signal corps, carrying complete outfit for field and wireless telegraphing, semaphore, etc., and even balloons and aeroplanes are to be given a test. If an opportunity should offer itself.
Of course, it will be impossible for sixteen thousand men with cavalry, artillery and baggage train to carry on operations on a large scale in a settled country without causing more or less damage. Adjusters will accompany both armies and settle with the citizens for any damage that may have been done to private property. It is expected that the total cost of this week of war will amount to more than $500,000. The provisioning of the armies during the maneuvers will require more than 75,000 pounds of rations. The greater part of the cost must be borne by the states the troops of which are taking part in the game of war.

FIVE BILLIONS FOR IRRIGATION

IRRIGATION CONGRESS IN WEST SEEKS $5,000,000,000 FOR AID OF CAUSE.

IS CONSIDERED AMPLE FUND

Effort Also Made to Condemn Use of Birds on Women's Hats Because Feather Kingdom Wages War on Savage Insects.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 12.—An issue of $5,000,000,000 in three per cent. bonds for irrigation of arid lands, improvement of waterways, public lands and drainage, is the plan of the National Irrigation congress in session here. Arthur Hooper of Spokane, secretary of the board of control, introduced the resolutions requesting this great sum.

How Fund Will Be Used.

It is proposed to use this fund in five portions, as follows:

One billion for drainage; one billion for irrigation; one billion for deep-waterways; one billion for good roads and one billion for forest preservation.

It was asked that a committee present the request to congress.

A resolution also was introduced planning that where settlers of arid lands have been deprived of the right to reclaim their lands by the action of the reclamation service in cutting off water rights such settlers may gain the right to their lands by the reclamation of one acre in their tracts by means of a well.

Condemns Birds in Hats.

J. N. Ford of Oregon introduced a resolution condemning the use of the plumage of birds for the decoration of women's head-gear and asking further protection of birds in the west, where their activities are a relief from the savage insects in the forests.

George O. Smith, director of the geological survey, spoke on the classification of public lands. Irrigation in South Dakota was discussed by S. H. Lee, state engineer of South Dakota.

Bullinger is Heard.

Secretary of the Interior, B. A. Bullinger delivered the principal address of the day, picturing the vast riches that had been gained by government irrigation.

Secretary Bullinger said in part:

"While the government has invested over $50,000,000 in irrigation works, many times that amount has been invested since the passage of the reclamation act by private enterprise. Any one who has visited one or more of the reclamation projects now in operation, and seen on the one hand the desert, covered with sage brush and barrenness, and on the other the water flowing over the fertile soil, producing heavy crops or orchards of fruit, appreciates to the fullest extent the benefits of irrigation."

"The people of the west, therefore, who are familiar with these wonderful results in irrigation, are highly appreciative of the importance of the reclamation service, but the great difficulty which the service encounters is in finishing the projects now undertaken as against the clamor for a diversion of the funds to new fields."

"In a century we have passed from a purely agricultural country to an industrial and commercial country, but we have not outgrown the necessity for agriculture."

Pardee Assails Bullinger.

The Bullinger-Pinchot contest burst upon the congress in the afternoon. Dr. George C. Pardee, former governor of California, attacked Secretary Bullinger with a fierceness only seconded by that of former Senator George Turner of Washington, who defended the secretary.

Former Gov. Pardee opened by saying that he was for Roosevelt and the Roosevelt policies.

"Roosevelt was a president who did things first," said he, "and talked about them afterward. And that's the kind of men we would like to see in public office now."

Dr. Pardee told of the activities of former Secretary Garfield, who, under the instructions of President Roosevelt, withdrew from public entry many tracts of land under the belief that these lands should be held for the people. Now, he said, Secretary Bullinger has again put up for entry these lands and each tract has in its boundaries a water power site.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

TO BRING a child into the world and then shirk the responsibility of bringing it up, is one of the wickedest things on earth.

To bring a child into the world and rear it to an honorable manhood or womanhood is one of the finest things on earth.

But there is one thing that seems to me even finer than that—because less instinctive—and that is to take up the burden that someone else has been unable or unwilling to carry—to take some homeless child into your home and rear it—the child that someone else has brought into the world.

Is your home a childless one?

Then pause today and wonder if you have any right to let it remain so.

Perhaps you help support some home and think that your duty to civilization and homeless babies is thereby done.

But remember that no home can ever be a home.

A man whom I know is struggling to have orphans and deserted waifs placed in private homes instead of in the large institutions where they are just pathetic units in a daily bread line, and as far as authority can accomplish it, person after person, he is doing his best to bring this little story to show what he was fighting against.

A little girl who was received into one of the large institutions in a big city was unusually silent and unresponsive. She never answered promptly when spoken to, as the other children did and was always strangely timid and unhappy. She had been at the home a month before the authorities found out that a mistake had been made and that she had been registered somehow as Louise when her name really was Helen, and that the poor little mite had been entirely lost at being called by her wrong name.

The day the correction was made, the people at the table where Helen, alias Louise, sat, were startled when the little girl suddenly piped up: "Now let's all say together, Hello, Helen." Which showed how very much the loss of her personality had meant to the poor little girl.

The losing of Helen is but one small illustration of the way in which personalities are lost and individualities are crushed out by institutions, however kind.

Perhaps it's fortunate for our peace of mind that so few such incidents ever come to the surface.

And then again, perhaps, it's unfortunate for our ultimate happiness that those of us who might need a baby to brighten up our lonely homes cannot be made to realize how very, very much some lonely baby needs our home.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, August 12, 1869.—Arrest of Three Suspicious Characters.—Yesterday afternoon four young men were prowling around the city evidently in search of booty. Their plan of operations was for one of their number—James Thomas, he gave his name—to engage the attention of anyone who happened to be alone in a store, while another tapped the till. They tried this game on at Vankirk's grocery, Doolittle's hardware store, Fredendall's grocery store, and were unsuccessful everywhere until toward evening at Palmer's grocery store they succeeded in getting three dollars. The theft was soon discovered and the officers found three of the party and arrested them and lodged them in jail. The fellow, however, who did the "lifting" escaped. They were brought before the police court this morning and the examination postponed until Saturday afternoon.

Wisconsin Excursionists in California.—By the Sacramento "Daily Union" we learn that the Wisconsin excursion party under the auspices of Hon. R. E. Hopkins, arrived in the city on the 29th of July. They were all in good health and spirits.

The new firm of Ashcraft & Wingate will keep their stock up to high water mark and offer inviting inducements to customers.

Found in the Water.—The body of Mr. T. H. Bennett, well known as a conductor on the C. & N. W. Road for a number of years and more recently as in charge of the woodyard of the same corporation in this place, was found in the Fox River, between this city and Chicago yesterday. He has been missing for several days, and the last thing known of him was that he took the train for Chicago last Friday night, when he had been summoned to adjust his accounts with Pity for the Malade Imaginaire.

Suffering, even if "imaginary," is nevertheless real enough—the one real thing, think those who have to bear it, in a world of dreams and shadows. Therefore, we must pity even the fanciful valetudinarian.

NOVEL PLEA SAVED HUSBAND.

Claims He is a Victim of "Postal Cardomania."

Cincinnati, Aug. 12.—William Schenck of Elwood place offered a novel excuse for slapping his wife when he faced Judge Hoffman in the police court. He claimed that he was a victim of "postal cardomania," and charged his wife with sending them. He presented several cards to the court.

On one was written, "All in and down and out;" another showed a handsome young woman with outstretched arms, yawning. Underneath the picture was printed the words, "I do not care if he never comes back." Another had written on it, "Come in, the water is fine."

The wife claimed that Schenck had slapped and then punched her in the face while he was talking with her Sunday night. Judge Hoffman placed the case on the open docket and told the wife not to send her husband any more postal cards.

SOCIETY OF "JOHNS" CONVENES

Muncie, Ind., Entertains Unique Organization's Members.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 12.—Somebody called out "Hello, John," on the street here today, and nearly 500 men replied "Hello." They were all Johns, too, for this was the day of the annual reunion of the "John family," whose members all bear that given name, and hail from all parts of the United States.

It was the fourth meeting of the unique association, which is regularly organized and has duly elected officers. All Johns were invited and welcomed, and their families also attended, but no adult male whose name was not John was admitted to the festivities. Every John wore a button indicating his membership. The program included addresses by Johns of more or less note, music and various games.

RACES POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY NOW

Rain Spoiled Day for the Great T. A. And B. Society Picnic Wednesday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Edgerton, Aug. 12.—Had it not been for the rain which began falling in torrents just as the first race of the afternoon was being made ready the biggest successes ever held in Edgerton. Every train up to noon brought crowds for the gala day and it is estimated that fully four thousand people were in the city. Twenty-two hundred paid their admission to the grounds in the morning and received rain checks when they were driven out by the storm.

The ball game of the morning between the Janesville team and the Chicago Union Giants was a hotly contested one. Manley, for Janesville, pitched a great game and received good support. Carlo made three sensational catches in right field all in one inning and Tom Sullivan did pretty work on second. Hall, behind the bat, did fine work, and Miller, at third, hit the ball and felled well. Palmer, at left field, gathered in some hard ones, and Fulton, in the center position, had several long flies to his credit. Porter, at short, handled the ball well, making only one error.

Owing to the rain the management have decided to hold the races scheduled for yesterday, on Friday afternoon, and as an additional inducement, have engaged the Chicago Union Giants at four o'clock. Besides this there are to be the 100-yard dash, the 75-yard dash for boys under fifteen, and the 50-yard dash for girls under six. Six hundred and fifty dollars are being up in the purses for the three races.

The rain drove the visitors down town and the streets were lively despite the showers which were most frequent. The stands did a thriving business and many Janesville men who were here for the day's business carried away considerable money as a result of the outing. The crowd was happy and there was little or no disorder. In the evening the dance was held which was well patronized.

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR
M'CUTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

"I wouldn't care back with you," he said quietly, earnestly. She understood. "Goodbye! Don't worry about me. I am in no danger."

"Goodbye," she said, the princess once more. "I shall pray for you with all my soul." She gave him her hand. It was cold and lifeless. He pressed it warmly and went quickly away, leaving her standing there in the still shade of the willow trees, looking after him with eyes that grew wilder and wilder with the tears that welled up from behind.

Hours went by—slow, tortuous hours in which the souls of those who watched and waited for his return were tried to the utmost.

Once there came to the ears of the watchers on the mountain side the sound of distant shouts, later the brief rattle of firearms. The blood of every one turned cold with apprehension. Every voice was stifled, every eye wide with dread. Neenah screamed as she fled across the terrace toward the drawbridge, where Selim stood as motionless as a statue.

Lunchtime passed, and again, as if drawn by a magnet, the entire household made its way to the front of the chateau.

At last Selim uttered a shout of joy. He forgot the deference due his betters and unceremoniously dashed off toward the gates, followed by Neenah, who seemed possessed of wings.

Chase was returning!

They saw him coming up the drive, his hat in his hand, his white underclothes raised above his head. The eager, joyous watchers saw him greet Selim and his fluttering wife. They saw Selim fall upon his knees, and they felt the tears rushing to their own eyes.

"Hurrah!" shouted little Mr. Saunders in his excitement. Bowles and the three clerks joined him in the exultation. The princess was conscious of the fact that at least five or six pairs of eyes were watching her face. She closed her lips and called her eyelids to obey the dictates of a resolute heart. She lowered them until they gave one the impression of indolent curiosity, even indifference. All the while her incomprehensible heart was thumping with a rapture that knew no allegiance to royal conventions.

A few minutes later he was among them, listening, with his cool, half-nutritious smile, to their protestations of joy and relief.

"Nonsense," he said in his most deep-revelling voice, taking a seat beside the princess on the railing and fanning himself lazily with his hat, to the mortification of his body servant, who waved a huge palm leaf in vigorous admonition. "It was nothing. Just being a witness, that's all. You'll find how easy it is when you get back to London and have to testify in the Skaggs will contest. Tell the truth, that's all." The princess was now looking at his brown face with eyes over which she had lost control. "Oh, by the way," he said, as if struck by a sudden thought, "it is my painful duty to announce to the Mesdames von Miltz that they are widows."

There was a dead silence. The three women stared at him, uncomprehending.

"Yes," he went on solemnly, "Jacob is no more. He was found guilty by his judges and executed with commendable haste and precision. He took

MODERN WAY OF LIVING

Has a Tendency to Weaken the Strongest.

One hundred years ago there was less kidney trouble than there is today. The worry, hurry, and overwork of modern living doubles the work of the kidneys, wears and weakens them until unable to properly do their duty of filtering the poisons from the blood. As a result the whole system runs down.

Need the slightest symptom of kidney trouble—the first backache, the first irregularity of the urine. It may be the forerunning of dangerous disease. You can cure yourself quickly with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read the experience of a Janesville citizen.

Chas. W. Allen, living in Janesville, Wis., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and can recommend them as a good kidney and backache remedy and one that can be relied upon. I suffered from kidney trouble for a long time, and although I used different preparations, I received no relief. Finally I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from the People's Drug Co. and began their use. In a few days my trouble left and it has never returned."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

added to get—er—got married before it was too late."

Depingham stared hard for a moment and then grinned broadly.

"You mean before you die?"

"That's it exactly, my lord. How, how! It would be a bit late, wouldn't it, if we waited till afterward. How, how! Splendid! So I have come to ask if you think it will interfere with your arrangements if—if we should be married tonight?"

"I'm sure, Saunders, that it won't discommode me in the least," said his lordship genially. "By all means, Saunders, let it be tonight, for tomorrow we may die."

"Will you kindly speak to her ladyship, sir?"

SPANISH SOLDIERS SWEEP BY FIERCE FIRE OF MOORS

Report of Desperate Three-Day Battle at Penon de la Gomeria Received in Madrid.

Madrid, Aug. 12.—King Alfonso and the minister of war, as well as thousands of people, are anxiously awaiting further details of the battle between the Moors and Spanish troops at Penon de la Gomeria which has been on for four days.

Advised thus far received say the rebels are directing a fierce attack against the soldiers and there is fear of another crushing defeat. At midnight the Spanish artillery seemed to have silenced the enemy, but the Moors dug new trenches under cover of the darkness and immediately reopened with a heavy fire, and their bullets are falling in the streets of the town. Some of the projectiles are so large that it is thought the Moors possess light artillery. The civilians of Penon de la Gomeria are adding the soldiers in the defense of the place.

Penon de la Gomeria is a fort of Spanish island on the coast of Morocco, 80 miles from Ceuta. It is used as a penal station.

It is understood here that Mula Hadda, the sultan of Morocco, has notified Spain of his readiness to send troops into the Rif region to chastise the Moors and establish peace. Spain, however, replied that this guarantee was not sufficient, and orders have been sent to Gen. Marina, who has nearly 40,000 troops at his command, to proceed against the Moors in the neighborhood of Melilla.

Alhucemas, Morocco, Aug. 12.—The unloading of stores here for the Spanish troops from the cruiser Estrenadura has been difficult, as the Moors have been harassing the men in charge of the work with a raking fire. The stores finally were disembarked, however, under the protection of a fire from the guns of the cruiser, the forts and the artillery on shore.

MEMORIAL STRANGLER SOUGHT

Man Who Told Location of Girl's Body Hunted by Police.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Officers are searching the vicinity of Greece for a man who, it is believed, has knowledge regarding the murder of Anna Schumacher in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery there Saturday evening.

Members of the Schumacher family, while seeking the girl, were approached by a man who told them the girl would be found where, later, her body was discovered. A man meanwhile had disappeared. A man answering the description of this person was put off a railroad train near the cemetery, and was seen to go into the woods. Searchers there found a revolver and evidence that some one had been camping in the woods for several days. The body of the murdered girl was buried yesterday.

DYNAMITE IN STRIKE WAR.

Dam Wrecked and Postmaster's Kentucky Family Gets a Shock.

Morehead, Ky., Aug. 12.—A section of the dam of the Licking River Lumber Company at Farmers, this county, was wrecked by an explosion of dynamite. Employees of the company have been on strike for several weeks. No arrests have been made, but trouble is feared as a result of the places of the strikers being filled with new men.

A stick of dynamite was set off near the home of Judge Serrill, postmaster at Farmers, and members of the family were shocked but none was seriously injured.

Backbone of Great Strike Seems to Have Been Broken.

Stockholm, Aug. 12.—The belief is gaining ground that the backbone of the general strike has been broken. Workmen of various kinds have resumed their duties in increasing numbers and it is expected that the printers soon will return to work. All the newspapers in Stockholm are issuing hand-printed sheets while those in the south are being printed in Denmark.

PRESIDENT TAFT IS TOO FAT

EMPLOYS MASSEUR TO TAKE OFF PART OF 326 POUNDS.

HE WOULD REDUCE TO 300

Ambassador O'Brien Reports on Situation in Japan and the Chief Expresses Satisfaction—Golf Critic Comments on Presidential Skill.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 12.—Every thing else having failed him, President Taft has employed a fat-reducing masseur in a desperate effort to check the onward march of his avoirdupois.

Dr. Walker is the masseur and he bled from Boston. He visited Evans cottage, the summer White House, before breakfast, and will continue to do so indefinitely if his cure for obesity succeeds. For more than half an hour Dr. Walker applied himself to the 326 pounds that make up the president, and this is official, despite the usual quotation of 300 pounds.

Kneads President's Chest.

He kneaded the mighty chest of the chief executive, attacked his expansive abdomen, massaged the huge biceps and kept bravely on until every fold of presidential fat had been assailed.

Then the president, in decided negligence, was taken to the rear yard of the cottage, where other fat-fading stunts that required more exertion on his part and less from the exhausted doctor, were gone through with. Dr. Walker asserts that his treatment will trim off at least 30 pounds before the summer is over.

The president's tendency to girth-increase is really one of the few matters on which he is inclined to be "touchy." It is for this reason that the actual weight of the president's 326 pounds (the weight before the first treatment) has been heretofore kept from the public.

Hears About Japan.

After the masseur got through with him, President Taft talked with the American ambassador to Japan, Thomas J. O'Brien, for more than an hour. The ambassador found the president keenly alive to the situation in the far east and Mr. O'Brien went carefully over every question of importance which was pending when he left his post at Tokyo to come home on leave of absence. After his interview with the ambassador, President Taft declared that matters in the far east were very satisfactory.

Taft Nothing But American.

Hamilton, Mass., Aug. 12.—After watching President Taft play on the links of the Myopia Hunt club, Ralph Cracknell, a leading golf critic, says even in his golf the president can be nothing except an American.

His strokes are the ones the national game makes second nature to all golfers who have played baseball. To expect the president to "come through" with his stroke and finish with the club high in the air, with the wrist taut, is to forget that Scotland's swing can't be grafted on to anatomy molded by the short swing of the baseball bat.

Mr. Taft's real game is baseball. Mr. Cracknell says. His club does not go back so very far, but he goes right through the ball and if he cared anything about frills he could finish in the approved style. But having gone through the ball he closes the discussion and gives no final pose.

TAFT WILL GIVE JOBS TO 300

Supervisors of 1910 Census Will Be Named in Few Days.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The names of the more than 300 supervisors of the thirteenth census to be appointed by President Taft will be made public next Saturday or Monday by the president. Assistant Secretary Mellish of the department of commerce and labor, and Census Director Durand will go to Beverly, Mass., to confer with the president about the appointments.

Throughout most of the country there will be a supervisor for each congressional district, but in large cities one supervisor will be appointed, regardless of the number of congressional districts.

CHANNEL SWIMMER SEASICK.

Sterne Forced to Abandon Attempt to Cross English Water.

London, Aug. 12.—William Sterne, the long-distance swimmer of Manchester, opened the annual series of attempts to swim across the English channel. He entered the water at South Foreland, the most easterly land in England, and at noon had covered seven miles of the distance to the French coast. Shortly after sunrise he was obliged Sterne to give up his enterprise.

Montagu Holbein also expects to start from Cape Gris Nez, France. Holbein will cross over from Dover by boat.

Appointment for Harry Darling.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 12.—Harry B. Darling, secretary of the League of Indiana Democratic Clubs, has received word that he will be appointed to take charge of the press bureau of the National League of Democratic Clubs.

This evidence cannot but be conclusive that we do find positions for our students. That we find the very best positions. And that Beloit Business College trained Bookkeepers and Stenographers are given the preference by many of the very largest companies.

It also shows that these companies prefer young people who have been trained in 20th Century Bookkeeping and Gregg Shorthand.

All these young people started at fair wages and have good opportunity to work up.
